School Council Updates

Catholic Education Parent Advisory Council – Erin Crawley

- On Monday March 21st there is a CEPAC meeting which I will be attending virtually.

Alberta School Council Association – Erin Crawley

- The ASCA AGM is coming up on Sunday April 24th. I have registered St. Luke and I will attend that with myself as the voting delegate for our school council.

New Meeting Dates – Erin Crawley

- The April 4th meeting is now being rescheduled to April 25th.
- The May 9th meeting is now being rescheduled to May 16th.
- We will now be able to hold our meetings in person. More information will come on this. We will most likely have a hybrid format where anyone that would like to attend virtually can still do so. We will also look into providing babysitting services for those coming in person who may need that.

School Update

Annual Assurance Data – Cathy Hinger

- The assurance process is a time for us to look at how we've done as a school community, what our community is saying, what we can celebrate and what we need to do moving forward. We look at our assurance data from three different sections – staff, students, and parents. All three stakeholders were surveyed, and these are the results of that survey:

Teacher’s Corner – Sharilynn Shakeshaft

- Our Leadership Team has been hard at work and are doing an amazing job around the school.
- We are gradually opening the school back up. We have some priest visits coming up. We have our local parish priest coming in on March 22 and then we have Father Bo coming in to work with the grade seven and eights. He is going to be teaching the students how to paint icons (Iconostasis).
- There are a lot of great LA projects coming in from the grade five, six, seven and eights.

- The grade sevens are working on insulation containers in science class. Next Monday they will be competing in an insulation project. Whoever can keep an ice cube for the longest amount of time will win.
- The grade five and sixes are doing some classroom chemistry.
- The grade fives have been doing a wonderful job running Praise & Worship each week.
- The grade eights are starting their Optic Unit and will be working with Mr. Hawkes on a light maze project.
